

LARGE VOTE CAST IN HERALD TOUR CONTEST

310,604 Votes Cast Saturday for Week-end Prize,
Making Grand Total of 2,983,366—Next Special
Prizes to be $310 in Gold Awarded Nov. 25.

The close of the week-end period in the Herald's Mediterranean and around the world contest wherein a complete camera outfit, consisting of a No. 3 Hawkeye Eastman camera, size 4x5, with a best make tripod and gold leather carrying case, was the prize for the contestant making the biggest gain in the score for the week of November 4 to November 11.

The biggest gain of the week was registered by Miss Mary R. Wilcox, of District 4, who increased her totals by the magnificent score of 128,502, and Miss Wilcox wins the camera outfit, which will be one of her choicest possessions on the tour if she is one of the fortunate winners on December 16, the grand close of the contest.

There were over 300,000 votes balloted Saturday for the week-end, and consequently there are some changes noted in the line-up of this morning. The grand total now runs to 2,983,366, nearly three million votes. Can you imagine the amount of energy it has taken to gather this number of votes?

Miss Wilcox now leads the entire contest by the splendid score of 128,502, and if the contest had ended last night she would have had the privilege of choosing either a tour of the world, starting from San Francisco, next February 6, 1912, or a choice of two trips to Europe, for herself and companion, all expenses of both to be paid by The Herald. Isn't the highest score in the whole contest something to work for?

The next shake-up in the districts occurs in District 3, where Miss Beattie Meek goes up into first place, just overtaking Miss Landvoigt by a little over 100,000. Miss Meek had advanced steadily in the past week from away down the line, and has now taken the honor position in her district and passed all rivals. Number 5 is a live district, however, and there will be some lively voting there before many days pass.

Another sensational jump was made by Miss Mary Regan in District 7, when balloting over $8,000, she leaps away ahead of the highest voter in her district and tops them all by a big majority.

It is the candidate who can see ahead of the good that a big gain will make among her friends and supporters that will get the best benefit from the prestige of such a move. Every one likes to help one who looks like a winner, they like to put off their chest and say, "My candidate won," and the votes that might go to some more enterprising candidate will be switched over to the live ones in the race.

E. De Groot, in District 8, evidently believes in the same thing by the manner in which he surprised his friends and came to the fore in yesterday's count. Mr. De Groot takes a hop-skip-and-jump from sixth place up into third with one bound. He is a popular mechanic down at the navy yard, and his friends and coworkers are standing by him with the much-sought-after subscription ballots, and if he sticks in the race with the same determination that has given him the first start, a most terrific spurt will be needed to wrest the trip from him in his district.
